

SCHEDULE OF FEES

All membership dues and certification fees are set by the Wyoming Seed Certification Service and the Wyoming Crop Improvement Association Board of Directors. The fees and dues are based on the cost of conducting the seed certification program and are subject to change upon joint approval of the Board of Directors and the Wyoming Seed Certification Service.

Wyoming Crop Improvement Association Membership Fees

Voting members - seed producers, conditioners, and contractors.....$50.00

Non-voting associate members.....$50.00

All applicants who produce certified seed must be members of the Wyoming Crop Improvement Association. The membership is paid once a year regardless of the number of crops certified and is normally submitted with the first application for certification. If the applicant and the grower are not the same party, both must be members. In addition, any person, company or firm interested in the Wyoming Seed Certification Program may apply for membership. Associate members are individuals or companies not directly involved in the production or conditioning of certified seed, but with an interest in the activities of the Wyoming Crop Improvement Association.

Dry Bean Partial Refund due to an Act of God provisions and limitations

- For the purposes of this provision, an Act of God is defined as “a violent or destructive natural weather event, such as hail, wind or frost.”
- The request for a partial fee refund must be made prior to harvest (combining).
- A request for a partial fee refund shall be made on a field basis. No refunds will be made on part of a field.
- Fields that have failed to meet Wyoming Seed Certification Service standards are not eligible for a partial fee refund. As an example, a field that has failed due to excessive nightshade or the presence of bacterial bean blight shall not be eligible for a refund.
- A field and resulting crop for which a partial fee refund request has been made is ineligible for certification.
- The entity paying fees is the only entity that can request and/or receive a partial fee refund.
- A request for a partial refund of fees must be made by October 31 of the cropping year for the field in question.
- A qualifying request for a partial fee refund due to an Act of God shall receive a refund of $2.00 per acre.
